On the cusp of fame, power, or influence, would you turn it down? Today's Gospel again features John the Baptist. Controversial but popular, John has gathered quite a group of followers. He has disciples. People come from near and far to be baptized by him. Pharisees and government leaders are drawn to his preaching. If John was another man, a lesser man, he would have claimed his own greatness. Instead, John the Baptist is a witness to humility.

"The next day he saw Jesus coming toward him and said, 'Behold the Lamb of God ... he is the one of whom I said, "A man is coming after me who ranks ahead of me." ... the reason why I came baptizing with water was that he might be made known.'" Rather than point to himself, John points to Christ. John could have grasped at what he had accumulated. He could have seen Jesus as a Messianic competitor. Instead, John knows who he is. He knows his place as forerunner. Because John knows who Jesus is. "I have seen and testified that he is the Son of God."

A life of humility, a life for others, can be challenging to live. So much of our culture is built around achievement and individualism. We can justify it, too, in pursuit of "greater goods" and higher ideals. In the process, however, we might miss our own participation in the kingdom of God. John, for all of his humility, was not an afterthought. In another Gospel passage, Jesus calls him "the greatest prophet," even the greatest of men. Why? Because he fulfills the mission given to him by God: to announce the coming of the Messiah. We too are prophets and forerunners. Our witness to the Gospel is meant to point people to Jesus. Consider your own mission this week. To whom are you called to announce the good news of the Son of God?

Welcome! It is our hope that you feel at home and among friends here. If you are a visitor for the day, we pray God's speed on your journey. If you are looking for a parish community, we would be delighted to welcome you into our parish family. Please introduce yourselves. To register in one of our parishes, please visit the St. Rose office at 605 East 22nd Ave in Torrington or call 532-5556.

This is a look at Jesus and the Jewish Roots of the Eucharist by Brant Pitre. You can get a copy of Jesus and the Jewish Roots of the Eucharist through Amazon or the Augustine Institute.

Fr. Ray's Book Review

Chapter 7: "The Jewish Roots of the Christian Faith." Jesus not only celebrated the Jewish Passover that night in the Upper Room. As the long awaited Messiah of Israel, the suffering servant who would give his life for many, Jesus also reconfigured the Passover around his own passion. By refusing to drink the fourth cup until his death on the cross, he united the Last Supper to his own sacrificial death. By commanding his disciples to repeat what he had done in the Upper Room, he perpetuated the new Passover. Jesus acted as the host of the Messianic Passover, because he saw himself as the Messiah. He offered himself as a sacrifice, because he saw himself as the Passover Lamb. You had to eat the lamb, not just a symbol of the lamb but its actual flesh.

If Jesus is the new Passover Lamb, then Christians need to prepare to keep the new Passover feast, the feast of the Eucharist. Christians do this not by cleansing out the leaven of the old Passover rite, but by cleansing their hearts of what that leaven symbolized, the uncleanness of sin. St. Justin Martyr wrote: "The mystery of the lamb, which God ordered you to sacrifice as the Passover, was truly a type of Christ, with whose blood the believers, in proportion to the strength of their faith, and anoints their homes, that is, themselves."

The Catechism of the Catholic Church teaches that at the Last Supper Jesus not only fulfilled the ancient Jewish Passover, He also anticipated the new Passover that he would accomplish in his passion and death.

It is because of the belief in the real presence of Christ, body, blood, soul and divinity, that the Church not only honors the Eucharist but gives to the Eucharist the worship due to God alone. Just as the Jews kept the Bread of the Presence in the Tabernacle, so too the Catholic Church now reserves the new bread of Jesus' presence in her many tabernacles throughout the world. In 107 Ignatius of Antioch denounced anyone who called themselves Christian but did not believe in the real presence. Today the Eucharist is truly seen as the source and the summit of the Christian life.

"Here I am, Lord; I come to do your will."
-Psalm 40

Motherhood

is Beautiful!

"Honor her for all that her hands have done, and let her works bring her praise at the city gate."

~ Proverbs 31:31 ~

Mothers...

Mothers are a beautiful gift from God. They can bring joy, love and peace into their families. They also may struggle with feelings of inadequacy, pain from their past, and fear for their future. What a joy it is, then, to walk alongside these young families offering support, guidance, and friendship. We surround each client in a loving atmosphere where they can learn and grow. And the impact has been great.

Change that Matters

God has blessed this ministry by allowing lives to be saved and changed in our community. In the moment of crisis to the hard times in life, we offer guidance and support where it is needed most. The truth and love shared encourages stability and peace. And families and future generations are blessed.

Thank You!

How does this ministry make a generational impact? By God's blessing! How has God brought that blessing about? Through His people! Thank you for being a part of this ministry with your prayers, time, and support. You have made a stand to encourage mothers, fathers, and families in our community, and we thank you for making a difference.

LIVE THE LITURGY - WEEKLY INSPIRATION

Our relationships ground and define us. Understanding where we come from, who matters to us, and to whom we have an allegiance all frame and direct our lives. One unchangeable about who we are is that God formed us in our mother's womb. Unless understanding of ourselves begins with this solid fact about ourselves, our knowledge will always be incomplete. John the Baptist and Jesus knew who they were and where they came from. This allowed them to understand their purpose and express their identity. To whom do you matter? If your primary answer is God then you are on your way to knowing who you are. Each of us has a purpose and mission to fulfill. See God as your strength and get about the business of meeting life's challenges.

ROSARY

Every Sunday at 11:00 am the vocations committee will be saying the rosary. All are welcome to join us.

Why do we do that?
Catholic Life Explained...

The Bible talks a lot about “testifying” or “giving testimony” to our faith. That makes me think of a courtroom. What does testifying to faith look like in everyday life?

The courtroom image isn’t too far off for some Christians. The Church has often been persecuted, and it was especially intense in the early days of the Church, when Acts and the various epistles were being written. For persecuted Christians, it did mean attesting publicly to their faith in Jesus Christ, sometimes before harsh judges. To testify is to bear witness, and this is something we are all called to do.

The call of Jesus is, first and foremost, a call to conversion of life. It is a repentance from sin, a casting off of old ways of seeing and moving in the world. The Christian life is one of transformation, becoming more and more like our God of love. In one sense, to testify to faith should happen naturally as we live like Jesus did. Our lives should bear witness in the respect we accord to others and the uncompromising dignity we honor in them. We bear witness in our gratitude, in our joy, in our hope in God’s power and grace. This is where we start! Sometimes others might inquire, as St. Peter puts it, as to “a reason for your hope.” Now you’re on the stand! It’s time to offer, “with gentleness and reverence,” the Good News of the Gospel (c.f. 1 Peter 3:15-16).

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP

Play That One Again

How many times have you sung the church song, “Here I Am, Lord”? If you grew up Catholic and are around my age (still 50!), the answer is more than you can count. The song that quotes various verses of Scripture is sung using guitar, piano, or organ, by cantors and choirs, in traditional and modern churches. It is truly a Catholic greatest hit of the modern Church. The question is how many times when singing the refrain have you really taken to heart what you were singing.

“Here I am, Lord; is it I, Lord? I have heard you calling in the night.” Like the biblical figure Samuel, we are responding to the call of God by asking for clarification that we are indeed the one being called. We then follow up the question with a profound statement: “I will go if You lead me.” It is profound because we are pledging to our God that we are willing to go wherever He wants. We are accepting the challenge put forth in the U.S. Bishops’ pastoral letter, “Stewardship: A Disciple’s Response,” to become mature disciples who respond to the call of Jesus Christ regardless of the cost. We have sung this pledge repeatedly for many years.

We never have any idea what God will call us to do and where to go. Sometimes the request can ask us for quite a lot. Hopefully, we respond like a mature disciple. If not, maybe we should reflect more the next time this song is played. The melody will not allow for the words, “I will see if I am busy and then decide to go if you lead me.” Then again, I don’t want to sing that to God, the source of all life anyway. Do you?

PRAYERS FOR LIFE

The over 56 million abortions since the 1973 decisions of Roe v. Wade and Doe v. Bolton reflect with heart-breaking magnitude what Pope Francis means by a “throwaway culture.” However, we have great trust in God’s providence. We are reminded time and again in Scripture to seek the Lord’s help, and as people of faith, we believe that our prayers are heard.

On January 22, the Church recognizes the Day of Prayer for the Protection of Unborn Children. As individuals, we are called to observe this day through the penitential practices of prayer, fasting and/or almsgiving.

Join with thousands of Catholics across the country to pray for life this Wednesday. For more information, and to sign up for text alerts with prayer intentions for life, please visit, www.9daysforlife.com.
