Palm Sunday is a strange day in our liturgical calendar. We begin by waving palms, but somewhere in the middle, we call for Jesus to be crucified. We celebrate today an equally paradoxical God, one who comes to save through suffering.

"I tell you, if they keep silent, the stones will cry out!" Jesus, who so often in the Gospels tries to hide his true identity, speaks thunderously to the Pharisees who would still the rejoicing crowd. At the Last Supper, Jesus confirms the Messianic promise to his disciples, saying "I confer a kingdom on you, just as my Father has conferred one on me." Yet, before the night is over, Jesus has been betrayed.

We hear the tragedy unfold in Luke's Passion narrative. Jesus is abused by the council of elders, denied by Peter, whipped by Roman soldiers, and condemned to death by Pilate. But what else do we see? Jesus heals someone who came to arrest him, forgives his torturers, promises a repentant man paradise, and - by his loving endurance - converts a centurion at the foot of the cross. Jesus is both Redeemer of the World and Suffering Servant. In taking on the mantle of Messiah, Jesus does not only receive our praise and our accolades, but he bears our burdens and sins and does so with the deepest love. He may go about our salvation in a paradoxical way, but he is dearer to our own suffering hearts for it. This week, we remember that no sorrow of our own is beyond the reach of the compassion of God.

Welcome! It is our hope that you feel at home and among friends here. If you are a visitor for the day, we pray God's speed on your journey. If you are looking for a parish community, we would be delighted to welcome you into our parish family. Please introduce yourselves. To register in one of our parishes, please visit the St. Rose office at 605 East 22nd Ave in Torrington or call 532-5556.

Fr. Ray is providing his chapter by chapter thoughts on the book "Overcoming Lukewarmness" by Francis Fernandez-Carvajal. If you are interested in acquiring this book go to Scepter Press or Amazon.

Fr. Ray's Book Review

Chapter 3 begins by reminding us that the great enemy of joy is lukewarmness, lack of love. Lukewarmness is a silent disease that is barely noticeable and hard to stop. It affects both our intelligence and our will. The soul feels tired of love. The real cause of sadness isn't so much eternal problems as interior ones, arising from sins and indifference.

If one is careless, the image of Christ in our mind will become darkened and far from our heart. Jesus is neither seen nor heard, and personal contact with him becomes impossible. The interior life slowly becomes a matter of doing things, not of loving God.

St. Thomas defined lukewarmness as a certain sadness, causing a person to be slow in performing spiritual acts because of the effort they require. It is a deliberate lack of desire for the things of the Lord. The person yields to softness, laziness bent on the easiest and most pleasurable way, any apparent shortcut, at the expense of infidelity to God.

One may continue talking about God, but not to God. The Holy Mass is no longer an occasion of true internal worship of God. Communions are often due to lack of love and preparation. Prayer is often vague, unfocused, scattered: there is no personal conversation with God. The Christian begins to think more about how hard it is to do good and how pleasant it is to do evil. Soon one avoids dealing with God as much as possible. Eventually the Christian gives up on God.

LIVE THE LITURGY - WEEKLY INSPIRATION

Once hailed with blessings and hosannas as he approached the Mount of Olives, the same God is nailed to a cross amid cries for His crucifixion. What an ironic twist of fate. What an unjust end to this compassionate, simple, and loving life. Life's ironies and cruelties are dramatically witnessed today and throughout this Holy Week. The thread of God's love is woven through it all as it reveals God's transforming, redemptive, and salvific plan. It is all necessary: the hardship and the joy, the suffering and the glory, the disappointment and the inheritance. When life takes a turn for the worse, we often question where God is. Are we ready to walk through our lives as did Jesus, with a persistent trust that regardless how difficult our journey, all will work out in the end. "Father, into your hands I commend my spirit."
